ORANGE LODGE OFFICIAL

A. E. WILLIAMS

Rt. Wor. Grand Master of the Provincial Orange Lodge of Alberta, whose present itinerary in Southern Alberta includes a visit to Vulcan Lodge on Tuesday, August 26th.

MILO NEWS

Mrs. Haggins and Gerald returned on Sunday from their holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Beachmau and Mr. and Mrs. Scott spent Sunday at Carmangay.

Miss Audrey Topp is a visitor of Mrs.
Haggins.

Mrs. Beckner and Dorothy returned on Monday from their vacation at Vancouver.

Howard St. Peter returned Friday from Champion accompanied by his friend, Johnny Moffett.

ORANGE GRAND MASTER WILL VISIT VULCAN

There is much of interest and importance in the announcement of the official visit to Vulcan, on Tuesday, August 26th of Rt. Wor. A. E. Williams, Grand Master of the Provincial Orange Grand Lodge of Alberta. It is the purpose of the Grand Master to have conference with members of the Vulcan lodge of the order and such others here resident who have connection with the association. The assembly will take place in the parlor of the United Church on the night of the date named, and proceedings will commence at 8:15. Subjects to be presented for consideration will pertain chiefly to ways and means, for the extension of the order and the support of the splendid enterprises of the association. It is of record that this is the first time in several years that the lodge in Vulcan has been honored by the attendance of an official that has reached the exalted position now held by Mr. E. Williams.

Mr. Williams has made rapid progress in the order and to it has given exceptional service. He became a member of the association by initiation in the lodge at Mannville, Alberta, when he had reached the required age some fifteen years ago. One of the founders of this lodge was his father. He attended his first session of the Grand Lodge of Alberta in 1919, at which meeting he was elected to the office of Deputy Grand-Secretary, which he held for two years.
In 1922 he was elected to the office of Grand Director of Ceremonies. The following year he became Grand Treasurer, and continued in this position until 1926 when he was elected to the office of Junior Deputy Grand Master. In 1927 he advanced to the chair of Deputy Grand Master, and in 1928 to the chair of Grand Master and is now serving his third term in that capacity. It is a distinction of note when a Grand Master is elected for three consecutive years. Besides having filled many of the offices of a primary lodge, he is a Past Master of Victoria County Lodge and a Past Commander of the Royal Searlet Order. Grand Master Williams has recently returned from the Centenary Session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, an assembly made memorable by the celebration of the one hundred years establishment of the Orange Association in Canada.
At this exceptional event the ability of the Alberta Grand Master was recognized by his appointment on the finance committee of the Dominion body.

MRS. WHEELER LAID TO REST

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Belle Wheeler, whose death was announced in these columns last week, took place on Wednesday, August 13 from the United church here.

The attendance exemplified the esteem in which deceased was held as did also the many beautiful floral offerings sent to the obsequies.

Rev. J. N. Brunton conducted the services at the church and graveside, and the pallbearers were Messrs. R.
Parslow, A. C. Bancroft, Glen Phillips,
A. H. Tharlie, W. D. Allan and A. J.
Clayton.

FORMER VULCAN GIRL DEAD

Private funeral services were held for Miss Bonnie Mitchell, aged 17 years, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, of 2209 Eleventh street west, Calgary, who died last week while visiting her mother and two younger sisters at Banff.

Miss Mitchell was born in Vulcan and came to Calgary in 1919 with her parents. She was secretary-treasurer of the Girls' Athletic Club of Western Canada high school, where she had completed her third year course.
She was also secretary of the C.G.I.
T. Wesley United church and a member of that council.

GIRLS' CLUB CAMPING TRIP

The Maple Leaf club members and their friends enjoyed five days of real gypsy life on the Little Bow river.
The old swimming hole was sounded, the offending rocks were removed,
and such ducks as the girls proved themselves to be. In the evening, community singing and games were enjoyed by the camp fire. Then the fifteen girls were lulled to sleep by the droning voice of the story-teller.
Everyone said the camping trip was a real holiday and hoped the club would have another one next year.

MINISTER ON THE JOB

HON. H. H. STEVENS

Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Bennett government, who will try to relieve wheat situation in Canada.
He has instructed his trade commissioners to boost our wheat and flour.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. C. H. Wheeler, Evergreen, Alberta, wishes to thank many friends for assistance during the illness of wife, and for floral tributes at the time of the funeral.

VULCAN GARDENS ARE CREDIT TO CITIZENS

Local citizens are to be commended for the care bestowed on their homes in the summer months, and particularly noteworthy is the number of beautiful gardens to be seen around town.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Dawson have been particularly fortunate in the enjoyment of lovely blooms and fine vegetables during the season, and on a recent visit the Advocate noticed:
asters, hollyhock, petunias, phlox, stocks, roses, snapdragons, pansies, California poppies, marigolds, and many other blooms some of which are of necessity, past their best; the vegetable garden showed healthy growth of cabbage, corn, beans, parsnips, carrots, fenced around with a beautiful selection of sweet peas in full bloom.

The flower garden surrounds a lawn and is enclosed by a honeysuckle fence.

The Advocate enjoyed the visit to this local beauty spot and extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dawson on the success of their efforts.

NOT TOO EARLY TO THINK OF HOCKEY

Every week draws the hockey season nearer and the time is getting short for the work that will have to be done to get Vulcan on the hockey map.

We notice that Rosie Helmer has been on a tour through Saskatchewan. It was not a pleasure trip, and unless we miss our guess the mission was to bolster up the Bronks. Well, we did not go to Saskatchewan, but we have them coming from further east than that.

After the harvest season is over, the fans will be anxious to know the probable line-up, and we will let them have it. The boys are talking hockey now.

Some of the old boys think they can still step out and catch a place.
They will surely have a chance to show their stuff.

We need a few jobs for some of the boys as there will be no loafers or pros. on the team, and if any of the fans can place a good, honest, clean-living boy he will be doing the hockey club a favor, and helping along the sport.

Let's forget former experiences and get right behind the boys who are trying to put the hockey team over.
I do not think anyone will ever regret the little extra time or money it may require to get hockey on a proper footing in this town and district.
Boost for clean sport all the time.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. R. N. Symington has been in the city for the past few days, in regard to the Soldiers' Pension Board.

narrow escape in a car collision, on the way home from Lomond on Mon-glad to know that he suffered no serious injury.

the opening on September 2, com-

VULCAN BAND WINS FAVOR AT CHAMPION

Vulcan citizens' band, under the guidance of Bandmaster Weale, is gaining wide popularity and on Sunday evening last they journeyed to Champion where they again rendered one of their delightful programs to an appreciative audience, every member being loudly applauded.

Mr. Geo. Campbell presided, and added sauce to the program with his humorous remarks concerning the numbers rendered, and the artists; at the close Mr. Campbell invited the band to pay a return visit in the near future.

Miss Hartwig was the band's vocal soloist for the evening, singing in her usual brilliant style, and receiving well-deserved encores.

being carried out at the Imperial respect, of the enterprise of Mr. and ated their son Joe. The whole building is being re-arranged and re-furnished and will be completed in about two weeks; after that date we will be

MASSED MUDDIERS

The Canadian Bookman in a drastic article by Marcus Adeney, pierces Canadian self-satisfaction. He says in part:

"Canada is not truly a nation of individuals, and hopes never to be one. We have still with us certain deeply ingrained and illogical hopes, fears and prejudices which because they are shared, we call National, and base a superficial unity upon them. Not perceiving that a nation can only be glorified in her outstanding individuals, we cherish a school system which deliberately trains to believe and to conform. We do our utmost to 'prevent' the individual, who must be of course a ferment in society. The glorification of our country, our institutions, our great men, above all others, is one sure way of killing thought, of ensuring conformity to rules. It is also a direct road to international conflict, just as the habit of being always right, is a sure way to marital disaster. Our national 'virtues' are so exclusive that in another people we would regard them as re-actionary and dangerous. Moreover we ensure that our children, when they grow up, shall be even as we are, by entrusting them under legal pressure, to a complicated and expensive system of indoctrination. They go in at six, fresh, bright observant. They come out at sixteen dull, self-conscious, remote, trying desperately to conform to a society far too much at cross purposes, for the sanity of any youth."

BANANAS FROM THE FAMILY

Up to a years ago Canada was importing 98 per cent. of the bananas consumed in this country from United States. They were not grown in that country, but were imported by U. S. concerns from neighboring countries, and Canadians paid tribute to U. S. capital on every bunch we consumed.

Today, thanks to the West Indies agreement, the situation is changing. West Indies in 1929 supplied 46 per cent. of the Canadian banana demand only 54 per cent. coming from the United States as against 98 per cent. the previous year.

These bananas entered Canada via Canadian ports and furnished freight for Canadian railway men. It was an all-British transaction. In return for buying bananas in West Indies, Canada was able to sell more flour, more fish and more of other Canadian commodities there.

This is an example of what can be done to keep British business within the family. It is the sort of business which we believe 99 per cent. of Canadians desire to foster.—Lethbridge Herald.

President Hoover is spending ten days' vacation at Glacier National Park. During his short stay he may visit Waterton Lakes, but the visit will be unofficial.

PAYING THE WAR DEBT

According to many outstanding Americans, the opinion is strong that the United States should not endeavor to collect the full war debt from Great Britain. Clarence Darrow, prominent lawyer says on the subject that "England should never have taken on herself the payment of war debts to the United States. We were in the same war and we should help to pay for it. England has tackled the whole expense of the conflict. She fought the world's battle and her debts should be cancelled."

In support of this movement, General John F. O'Ryan has stated: "Almost all of the senior officers of the army feel that we have a narrow view of the foreign debt. We entered the war in partnership with Britain and France against a common enemy, and we were expected to play a man's part. We weren't ready. Fourteen months elapsed (even after we entered the war) before we took over a section of the line, and in the meantime that section was held by British and French. They did the dying. General Pershing, the American commander-in-chief, backs up this reasoning with his own statement."

Mr. Charles M. Schwab, former president of the United States Steel Corporation, declared months ago that, "I am one of the men in America who openly believed and stated that, while we were not able to contribute with manpower in the war, it was our duty to contribute money."

SURVEY OF CROPS

W. R. Bawlf of the Bawlf Grain Co. Winnipeg, is making a business trip to his firm's offices in Alberta. From his observations it will be difficult to give an accurate estimate of the crops in Saskatchewan Manitoba and Alberta for the crops are patchy. However, he thought the three prairie provinces will not fall short of 400,000,000 bushels. Business conditions show an improvement along with the improvement in wheat market. The low point in the market has been passed and the value of the Canadian wheat crop stands to increase materially as a result of the hot, dry weather in the States and the consequent shrinkage estimated at 500,000,000 bushels in the American corn crop.

HEAVY BANK FAILURES

Theodore Knappen, economic writer of Wall Street, informs us that there were two bank failures every business day during 1929 in the U.S., a total of 640 in the year.

Banking conditions are not recovering this year as indicated by the fact that in the initial seven weeks of 1930 there was an average of four bank failures every business day.

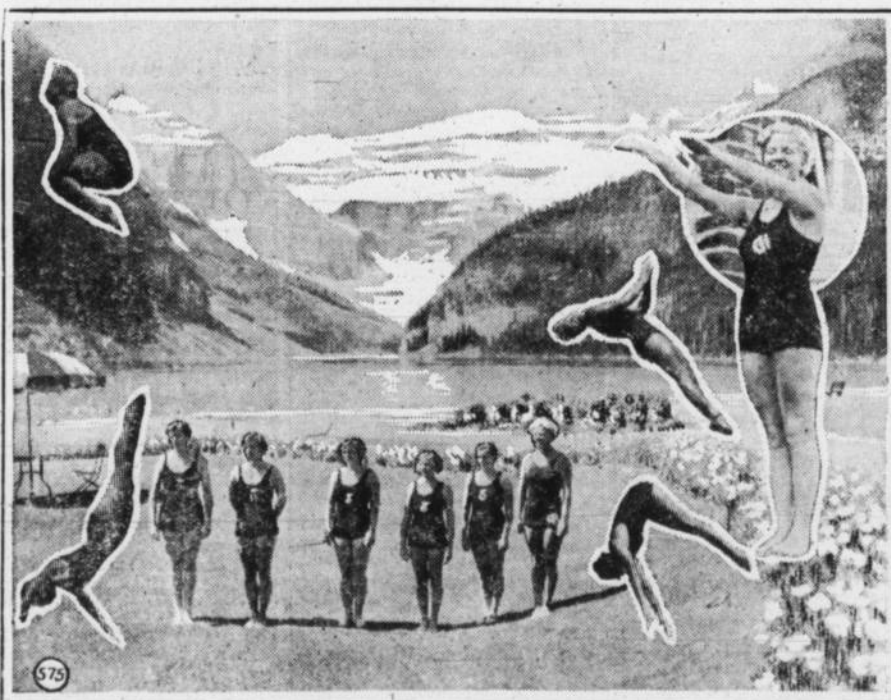

Knappen further tells of 5,610 bank failures in the U.S. during the last nine years, involving deposits of $1,750,000,000, the funds of 7,264,890 depositors and 114,000 shareholders.

These are cold figures, and tell of sorrow in hundreds of homes. All of which leads us to remark that we have reason to be thankful for Canada's sound banking system.

HENS THAT PAY

The ten-year average of the cost of feeding laying hens at an experimental farm was $2.43 per hen. This means that with eggs selling at an average of 35 cents per dozen it takes 6.95 dozen, or 81 eggs, to pay for the keep of the laying hen—only the eggs laid in excess of that number can count as profit. This demonstrates the importance of carefully culling poultry flocks before the laying season begins. It is the hens that lay from 150 to 200 eggs a year that pay.

CHAMPION MERMAIDS IN ROCKIES

Champion lady swimmers and divers of the United States invaded Banff and Lake Louise this month and gave thrilling exhibitions in the pools attached to the Canadian Pacific hotels at both resorts. Hundreds of guests at both hotels witnessed the show where skill and scenes of superb natural beauty make a remarkable combination. Illustration shows the team with a background of Lake Louise and mountains. They are, from left to right, Agnes Geraghty, Olympic swimmer; Catherine Ames; Lisa Lindstrom, metropolitan distance champion and Olympic swimmer; Constance Hanf, junior metropolitan champion; Eleanor Holm, national champion of the United States, 100 and 200 yards, back stroke; and Georgia Coleman, national champion diver, who is also inset. All are from New York, except Miss Coleman, who is from Los Angeles.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

C. P. R. Was Commenced in the Year 1880

Fifty years ago, twenty-one engineers departed from Ottawa to go to British Columbia for the purpose of locating and constructing four sections of the C. P. R. in the West—two along the Fraser and two along the Thompson Rivers.

In order to get to Victoria, the engineers went by way of Chicago to San Francisco and from there to Victoria by steamer.

The first shot in construction west of Winnipeg, was fired at the west end of Yale tunnel in May of 1880. In 1881 the C. P. R. company was formed and losing no time in locating and constructing the pieces of road, the west and east were joined up in 1885.

It was in 1881 that the road was undertaken in B. C. to Port Moody, and still later, the new point Vancouver entered.

Only once in thirty days may United States tourists take from Canada to the United States one hundred dollars worth of purchases for personal or household use duty free, says a ruling received from Washington. The new decree is in effect all over the Canada-United States border.

POLITICAL CHAT

New Government Faces Difficult Problems at Coming Sessions

A newspaper man, Wilfred Eggleston, writing of the recent election, says he feels that the Liberal party went down fighting in a clean battle, with a fine record behind them and that they will emerge with much potential strength. Four factors helped to defeat King, viz: unemployment depression, public fickleness and the cry "it's time for a change." The heavy weights of the party survived with the exception of Dunning and Cannon. Mackenzie King is never greater than when with his back to the wall.

He doubts if Dunning will stay in public life. He is not a wealthy man and faces the needs of making some provision for himself and growing family. He has given unstintingly and unselfishly of his time to the governments he has taken part in. He is practically a poor man. He will not return to provincial politics in Saskatchewan. He will be sadly missed in the Liberal party.

Bennett's troubles are beginning. He became Premier during a period of business recession and the end is not yet. Trade has been falling off for the past nine months and there will be much unemployment this coming winter. Customs receipts are sure to slow up. Heavy commitments must be made by the new government and the budget of 1931 may have to announce a deficit or new taxation—possibly both. Then the grain situation must be considered. It's bound to be a troublesome problem and adverse criticism is bound to follow whatever is done. Mr. Bennett enters his new responsibilities with an acute sense of the solemnity and weight of the office. He has a tough time ahead. Forming his cabinet. Holding a special session. Attending the Imperial Conference. He is deserving of the utmost co-operation of all Canadians in his efforts.

Much sympathy was wasted on Mr. King. A tremendous burden rolled off his shoulders on the night of July 28. Once more he is free to read and loaf a bit, play golf and chat and live like a normal human. He is a young man as politicians go, only 56. When he fights his next election he will be 60. Given health, we shall hear plenty of him yet before the curtain falls.

An Ardent Believer in Peace Education Attacks the Indirect War Training of Schools

Private Peat since his discharge from the army in 1917, has been engaged in lecturing and writing in the interest of Peace Education. He has been present at all major Peace Conferences since 1918.

It is in no unqualified terms that he attacks the horrors of war, and searches for a remedy to ensure the continuance of Peace.

In his contention, the whole training of youth predisposes him to the glorification of war.

Taking as example, the typical 20-year-old boy who rushed eagerly to the war of 1914, he pointed out that history, literature, art and music had combined to exalt the glorious experience and the heroism. His mind had been well prepared.

"Monuments are erected to soldiers not to the finest farmers or the best school teachers, nor to those of service in the arts of peace."

The Victoria Cross, the Legion of Honor, the highest honors a country can give are reserved for the soldier. A boy learns early in his school days that to be glorified he must serve in war, to be a hero he must serve in war.

"He also learns that in his reading of historic wars, his country has never been in the wrong, has never started anything, has been always defensive. To be sure, it had to go a few thousand miles to get to some of the wars, but it was always in the cause of right."

"Similar teaching was being given to the youth in every country, and in 1914 when the slightest incident started the world conflagration, all youth was ready with 'Hooray, there's war.' Not that the average youth hated anyone in particular, but war had been pictured to him as a glorious adventure, and here was his chance to win glory and see Europe free. The will to war was strong in the world because of the ignorance of humanity in regard to the stench of war. The 20-year-old boys learned."

"The whole early training of youth in school tends to militarism and can in one hour convert the most peaceful nation into a struggling militaristic spirit quite as effectively as a Kaiser trained system."

"Unfortunately the whole source of school information regarding wars comes from historians who were not in the thick of battle. Over 95 per cent. of the compilers of text books did not get to the war till after the crosses had been placed row by row."

"It took four years of whole-hearted endeavor for a few million men to kill each other. And in the space of a few weeks, the 'flu germ of 1918 starting in China and travelling round the world wiped out millions. The war failed in its efficiency as a killing machine, in comparison with 'flu.'"

"Man is truly a fighting animal but not a murdering animal. There are so many ends to which man may use his fighting capacity. Disease, filth, germs, parasites, all require man's best endeavors, without turning to the gruesome task of mangle each other."

"Killing is only wrong if done individually. If done in uniform by order of a government and in wholesale quantities, it is a great virtue."

"The will to war however was lacking in 1919. The countries had had enough. You could have shot all the Arch dukes in the world in 1919, and no nations would have jumped into war. There were economic disturbances, far greater causes than in 1914, countries hated each other but lacked that one element, the popular will to war."

As suggestions toward promoting a Peace atmosphere, Private Peat presented:

"The school room needs more disarming than the training camp."

"Quit projecting the past into the future. In honesty tell the truth. Present if you will the happy hero having his medal pinned on. But on the other page, draw a picture of the price of that medal and the circumstances surrounding his valorous deed—thousands of broken hearts, thousands of wooden crosses. Give both sides of the picture. Exalt the pursuit of healthy constructive labor. Exalt tolerance and dignity and sportsmanship."

"The talk of 'humanizing' war is folly. What nation with its back to the wall, is not going to use every weapon in its power. Refuse to support an institution that wreaks ruin on women and babies."

"I am all for military training camps in peace time, but make them the real thing, grim and real. That will remove some of the camouflage."

"The school presents the antithesis of the Christ ideal of the churches."

D. R. Melvor, former resident of Cowley, who ran as Liberal candidate in the Camrose constituency was defeated by W. T. Lucas, U.F.A. with a majority of nearly two thousand.

Tourists are finding much to interest them at Elk Island National Park Alberta, which is only an hour's run from Edmonton. This park virtually is a wildlife sanctuary, the first of its kind in the Dominion. It contains hundreds of wild buffalo, moose, elk and deer, besides many other animals and birds, living under natural conditions.

Has it ever occurred to you that back of every advertisement in this paper there is some one with a personal message for you? More often than not these advertisements were written with you in mind. It is impossible for most merchants and manufacturers to give you a phone call about their goods, their wares, or their services. So they pay us for the privilege of calling these things to your attention in our advertising columns.

Give an advertisement the same attention you give to a phone call. Many of them are just as important to you — and just as interesting. They will help you to economize and keep posted on news of vital interest to you and your pocketbook.

Sow Thistle Menace
Arrests Attention of
Leading Farmers

In order to make sufficiently impressive the overwhelming menace to this country of the Sow Thistle, "Dad" Fletcher states emphatically: "Add together all the losses to the farmer from hailstones, drought, frost, from Canada thistle, Russian thistle, stink weed and mustard, from every other conceivable enemy of good crops—and the loss from the sow thistle alone, exceeds the whole combination in seriousness."

This statement, while startling in its sweep, is doubtless no more the cold fact, coming as it does, from a man who has made a conspicuous success of farming, and who is alert not only to opportunities, but to all destroying forces. He sees in the spread of the sow thistle, the most deadly enemy with which the farmer has to contend, an enemy which can, in all too short a time, possess his land, leaving it nothing but a plague spot.

The old Red River valley of Manitoba, which in its day was one of the growing wheat belts of the West, fell a victim to the sow thistle and in many districts today, the farms have been abandoned, so far as grain growing is concerned. The sow thistle has taken possession and it will require years of labor to eradicate it.

Already it has raised its head in this district, and should be fought vigorously by farmers and by townspeople as the very real enemy which it is.

Now is the time to destroy it, as its immense fertility will soon carry it far and wide across the fields. The most effective method of killing is to eradicate it with chemical weed killer. Failing this, if the weeds are cut, the heads should be isolated and carefully destroyed. Unfortunately this weed has the greatest affinity for heavy or better types of soil especially if they are wet. While small areas may be treated by chemical, careful uprooting or by covering with tar paper till smothered, the larger areas are treated by starving out the rootstocks, by depriving them perpetually of foliage using the duckfoot cultivator to maintain a black fallow.

Above all, the seeds must not be allowed to mature, to blow over clean fields, and even though it might mean the elimination of the crop in a badly infested field, the weeds must be destroyed before they take possession. The Weed Inspectors should strictly, even ruthlessly, enforce the Noxious Weed Act, especially in its application to the sow thistle. Along the roadways, and the streets, a vigilant outlook should be maintained, and it is a charge upon all citizens of town and country to do their utmost to prevent this worst of all troublemakers from gaining any greater foothold.
